Best Anti-Spam and Anti-Virus

Spam used to be annoying. Now, it's dangerous. Last year, 75% of businesses reported virus infections from incoming email. Email is now the leading entry point for network threats like viruses, Trojans, and worms. Lost productivity from checking and deleting spam and the expense of rallying the IT department to fix and recover lost data costs over $20 billion a year.

Keeping the spam menace out of your organization is not an easy or cheap proposition. The software licenses alone are costly. Add to that constant maintenance to ensure protection against emerging threats.

Looking for relief? Look to Business Email.

With Business, you get exceptional support and affordable, feature-rich business email and the strongest threat detection structure in the industry. We combined the best of our threat scanning capabilities with industry leaders in spam and virus protection. Before a message enters your mailbox, it undergoes four independent, threat blocking scans:

- Threat Blocker #1: Our Gatekeeper Scan. Our team of email experts developed the Gatekeeper scan to evaluate a message's compliance with rigorous, internationally recognized technical standards. Messages are also checked against aggregated blacklists of known spam offenders.
- Threat Blocker #2: Message Sniffer. Utilizing user feedback and enhanced pattern matching, Message Sniffer seamlessly annihilates over 98% of spam in real time.
- Threat Blocker #3: Cloudmark and CommTouch. Advanced Message Fingerprinting from Cloudmark is strong enough to annihilate spam and accurately identify virus attacks. Plus, we added CommTouch's thorough spam filters, featuring Recurrent Pattern Detection (RPD) technology.
- Threat Blocker #4: Clam AV. Incorporating a three-layer virus scan on all incoming messages, Clam AV targets deceptive measures senders use to mask viruses, compares the message against known virus definitions, and evaluates attachments for possible viruses.

Maintaining this comprehensive level of threat protection could cost you thousands of dollars a month to maintain. As a Business customer, these protections are free with every mailbox you add.

Best in Class Uptime

If you've ever had your email service go down, you know how important uptime is. Businesses rely on email more than ever before, whether it's a "contact us" link on your website, emailing client documents, or gathering your team for a meeting. In fact, over 80% of small business owners consider reliable email an important part of their success. However, maintaining safe, reliable email service is no easy task. Just ask the 25% of business owners who experienced major email outages last year.

The Satisfaction Guarantee

Business customers have the luxury of not worrying about uptime. We guarantee all systems related to delivering your email are operational—or your money back. We're that confident because we have nearly a decade of experience successfully navigating mail to inboxes, safely, quickly, and efficiently.

How Do We Deliver?

That requires vigilance on multiple fronts to guarantee on demand email performance every time you hit "send":

- Sending & Receiving—Across multiple data centers, we maintain over 1000 mail servers moving more than 50 million messages a day. Using simple, scalable inbound and outbound mail servers, traffic spikes are efficiently spread across data centers and new servers are deployed on demand. All of this happens without a blip in service on your end.
- Secure Mail Storage—If a catastrophe wipes out your systems, it won't wipe out mail data. Two live copies are always available, plus a third offline backup. Messages are backed up daily and retrievable up to 14 days later.
- System Metrics & Alerts—Real-time monitoring tells us immediately if there's a broken link in our system before it affects your inbox. All day, every day from over 20 locations on five continents, we test mail delivery, server availability, and security. When a problem arises, dozens of experienced engineers handle the problem and plan to prevent reoccurrence.
- Our People—Engineers and developers are the foundation of our guarantee. We've assembled functional teams dedicated to individual aspects of mail delivery. Within these teams, developers designing new features and fixes work alongside engineers responsible for troubleshooting and keeping the systems running. So if something goes wrong, the people who built the systems are working in sync with the people expected to fix it.

With our highly specialized, directed teams and processes focused on your email, you can go back to focusing on your business.
